Family and Personal Life

Scott Ledbetter was born in Dallas, TX. He moved to Louisiana as a child and has been living in St. Charles Parish. He is married to Leslie Benz Ledbetter and has two children. His hobbies include CrossFit, hunting, fishing and camping. Scott is also an avid LSU football fan; on Saturdays in the fall, he will either be in the woods, on the water or watching an LSU game. Being the first generation college student, Scott Ledbetter knows how to work to achieve his goals. He believes that attorneys should be a lifetime advocate for his clients. Because of this, Scott strives to be there for his clients to help with every one of their legal needs.

Education

Scott Ledbetter earned his High School Diploma from Hahnville High School. He earned his Bachelor's Degree in Psychology from the University of New Orleans in 2012 and his Juris Doctor from Loyola University in 2016. While in school, Scott was a member of the Family Law Clinic where he was able to work on existing cases. In October of 2016, he was admitted to the Louisiana State Bar and has been a member of the Terrebonne, Lafourche, Jefferson and Orleans Bar Associations.

Legal Experience

Scott began working in the legal field in 2014 while in Law School. He worked at Collins and Armore, a bankruptcy firm in Plano, TX.

Following law school Scott worked as a fellow for the Southeast Louisiana Legal Services. His fellowship primarily dealt with representing children in the foster care system and assisting self-represented litigants at the Lafourche Parish Self Help Desk. However, he also assisted in the preparation of wills, Power of Attorney documents, Provisional Custody documents, and various Family Law issues.

In January 2018, he decided to venture out on his own to expand his experience in the practice of law. He now handles cases dealing with Divorce, custody, child support, personal injury, workers compensation, medical malpractice, and Department of Child and Family Services.
